

From Grapes To Raisins

Number the steps in order by writing 1-7 in the small box on each strip. Draw a picture in the large box to illustrate each step. Cut the strips apart and glue them in order on a piece of construction paper.

<input type="checkbox"/>	For two or three weeks, the grapes dry out in the sun to become raisins.
<input type="checkbox"/>	The stems are removed by machines, and the raisins are packaged in boxes.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stores sell boxes of raisins to you!
<input type="checkbox"/>	The raisins are driven to a food processing plant.
<input type="checkbox"/>	When they are ripe, grapes are picked.
<input type="checkbox"/>	The raisins are transported all around the world and delivered to stores.
<input type="checkbox"/>	The grape vines receive water to help them grow.